

Your Money Matters!

by Atkinson Petruska Kozma Hart & Couture
Your "Up North" Lawyers

How to Cash In on "Forgotten" U.S. Savings Bonds

Did Grandma buy your kids some US Savings Bonds when they were babies and stick them in "a safe place" that no one can find 2 or 3 decades later? Not to worry! You can find "lost" savings bonds that are waiting to be redeemed at www.treasuryhunt.gov by inputting a social security number.

Another easy to find government money is to visit www.IRS.gov/refunds. Each year, millions of tax refunds go unclaimed, for a variety of reasons.

To see if you may be due a refund, click the "Where's My Refund?" link to check on the status. You may just "dig up" some money that belongs to you!

